The following issues were discussed:

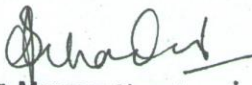

- The issue of publishing papers with AIRCC and SERSC publishing houses that was discussed during the last DRC meeting held on 27th September 2017 was reopened. The reason for reopening this issue was that some of the research scholars of the department pointed out that AIRCC and SERSC publishing houses publish paid papers. The DRC unanimously decided that the research papers submitted to the paid journals will not be considered for the submission of Ph.D. thesis.

During the last DRC meeting two scholars had submitted papers published by AIRCC and SERSC publishers for submitting their PhD thesis. The DRC noted that neither the scholars nor their supervisor brought to the attention of the DRC members that the papers were published in paid journals. Based on this, the DRC committee revisited the papers submitted by scholars Mr. Muneer Ahmad Dar and Mr. Suhail Qadir, and it was resolved that the papers are unacceptable, as these papers have been published in paid journals.

- The DRC decided that the research scholars should submit a copy of their synopsis (approved by the BORS) along with a copy of the published paper, for the consideration of DRC, for allowing submission of the Ph.D. thesis.
